

Empower senior management with impactful cyber insights and advice

We provide deep, battle-hardened expertise on cyber regulation and risk management
Get ready for new government regulation requiring Board & senior management oversight

New SEC Rules on Cyber Risk Management, Strategy, Governance & Incident Disclosure by Public Companies

- Rules finalized in July 2023
- New mandates across:
 - Board oversight of cybersecurity risks and management's role in assessing and managing material risks from cybersecurity threats
 - Risk management, strategy and governance disclosures regarding cybersecurity risks including assessments of design and effectiveness of policies & procedures
 - Reporting of material cyber incidents within four business days

Leverage Next Peak's cyber management and Board advisory expertise ...

- We are Board advisors to large financial services and on the board of cyber investment companies
- We have designed, built and led cybersecurity programs in some of the biggest entities across the financial sector, military and government, as well as designed cyber standards used globally
- We work with clients to tailor our level of support to their level of maturity, industry and ambitions
- Our guidance is holistic, specific and actionable: we co-create with client teams to find the most appropriate solutions for your cyber challenges
- We see ourselves as partners to clients, providing objective expertise to help you make informed strategic decisions

... to get your company ready for new financial services regulations.

Let us help you get ready today:

- Senior Advisor to the Board - expert advice on cyber strategies, risk management and industry best practices
- Cyber Workshops - understand new regulatory requirements and their impact
- Cyber Risk Assessment - review your cyber risk governance approach from strategy to policies and procedures